

SMART Objectives

A good objective is:

Specific – clearly states the change you are trying to create and who you are trying to affect.

Measurable – the desired change can easily be measured

Achievable – is a realistic change to aim for

Relevant – relates to your vision, mission and goal(s)

Time-bound – has a specific timeline for achieving